FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mathew M. Meyer Recognized as the “Minnesota Volunteer of the Year” and Presented the National “Presidential Service Award” by the Department of Defense Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve (“ESGR”)

Minneapolis, Minn. (October 6, 2011) – Moss & Barnett, A Professional Association, is pleased to congratulate Mathew M. Meyer who was recognized as the “Minnesota Volunteer of the Year” and presented the national “Presidential Service Award” by the Department of Defense Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve (“ESGR”). Meyer is a shareholder of Moss & Barnett and a member of its litigation practice area. The awards were presented during ESGR’s annual meeting, held on April 4, 2011, by General Craig R. McKinley, the Chief of the National Guard Bureau.

ESGR was formed to develop and promote a culture in which all employers support and value the military service of their employees, and it serves as the principal advocate for employers within the Department of Defense. Their mission is to develop and promote employer support for Guard and Reserve service by advocating relevant initiatives, recognizing outstanding support, increasing awareness of applicable laws, and resolving conflicts between employers and service members.
